THE LYUDMYLA KOZLOVSKA CASE TIMELINE [UPDATED]

This is a non-exhaustive timeline of events preceding and following the expulsion of Lyudmyla Kozlovska, President of the Open Dialogue Foundation, from the EU. This list will be updated as events unfold.

The actual reason is the support given by ODF and Lyudmyla Kozlovska to local civil society and attempts to sanction the corrupt political elites. The commission, as a pretext, uses Poland’s SIS ban and the covering by ODF of travel costs for opposition leaders Andrei Nastase and Maia Sandu during their trip to the European Parliament in May 2017.

British authorities ignore his request.

In his reply, Commissioner Timmermans stresses that SIS falls under the jurisdiction of Member States and therefore Lyudmyla Kozlovska should appeal to Polish authorities, as per the SIS II regulation. No reference is made to the lack of appeal procedures provided in this case under Polish law, which - also for that reason - was determined incompatible with the EU regulation by the Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights and Dr Evelien Brouwer of Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam

Julie Ward (S&D/UK), Eva Joly (Greens/France), Gérard Deprez (ALDE/Belgium), Michał Boni & Róża Thun (EPP/Poland) – raise the case of Lyudmyla Kozlovska, stating the system is "being abused by some states for their anti-democratic goals" and asking to include safeguards, "so that it's not abused further by including persons for political reasons".

State media informs of an investigation conducted by the Internal Security Agency (ABW), related to the Foundation and Bartosz Kramek’s company Silk Road. Former Belgian Prime Minister and President of the ALDE Group in the European Parliament issues a public letter in defence of Lyudmyla Kozlovska, urging Belgian authorities that “if any request for so-called mutual assistance, extradition or other demand related to Lyudmyla Kozlovska is received by Belgian authorities from their Moldovan counterparts, it should be considered as political prosecution in order to pressure a human rights defender, approached with utmost scepticism and not treated as a relevant request by a state that fully abides by the rule of law.”. Similar letters are to be issued by other Members of the European Parliament.
